About This Guide

As the largest and oldest trade association representing the global microelectronics manufacturing supply chain, there is a lot going on at SEMI. From worldwide events to technology-specific communities to industry advocacy and critical initiatives (e.g., workforce development), we help our members connect, collaborate, and innovate in many ways.

And to help our members get the most out of SEMI membership, we created this guide to orient you and get you quickly plugged into the opportunities that will be of most value to you and your company.

Please share this guide with your colleagues and encourage them to participate where they can. And if you have any questions or feedback, please let us know! (There is a list of contacts at the end of this guide.)

Quick Start Guide

Or... "What Should I Do First?"

1. Create a semi.org account, which is your key to accessing member-only content and taking advantage of discounted pricing on SEMI events and products. (Note: All employees of a member company can create their own profiles.)
2. Review your company listing in the Membership Directory for accuracy.
3. Identify which Technology Communities you would like to join.
4. Connect with one of our regional chapters:
Arizona – Northeast – Pacific Northwest – Silicon Valley – Texas
5. Sign up for our regular newsletters, SEMI Global Update and Standards Watch, to stay informed. (Note: Your company representative will also receive our monthly membership newsletter, Member Connect.)

Membership FAQs

- How can I network and promote my business with other SEMI members?
 - The most effective way to network within SEMI is to join one of our many Technology Communities and/or committees. We also encourage members to attend/exhibit/sponsor our global and regional events at a discounted member rate.
- What is Connect@SEMI?
 - Connect@SEMI is the online platform used by SEMI's Technology Communities to communicate and manage their activities. Once you have joined a community, your SEMI Web User Profile will provide you access to it's portal. Once there, you can connect with other members and access additional materials and resources.
